

An internal deployment of Magnitude to assist us manage our own business

Productivity + Accountability: across Teams, Tasks & Time

At Magnitude we use our own platform to create digital process activities to support our business. We use no other tool within our core operations.

In this way we completely understand the strengths and weaknesses of the system and continually evolve it to improve.

And we run our business efficiently.

THE CHALLENGE

The members of each of our development, testing and configuration teams work in disparate locations, across time zones and on a myriad of project tasks.

As team members and management we must understand in real-time and in one place:

- Time invested per task / per project / per customer
- Status of work relative to committed deadline
- Quality of work done via the perspective of both the worker and test results
- Work rate per person
- Burndown rate on task backlogs
- Communications between team members; completely in context to tasks

THE SOLUTION

- A set of digital products crafted to support the way that we work across:
 - Sprint planning and execution
 - Bug reporting and resolution
 - Testing
 - Configuration project planning and execution
- Team members:
 - Record allocated work into respective Magnitude 'activities'
 - Update deadline status
 - Update progress status
- Complete visibility through the team and management
- Real time, logged @chat communications in context
- Integrated into MS Power BI visual reports
- All company IP is secure and accessible in one place

BI Visualisation

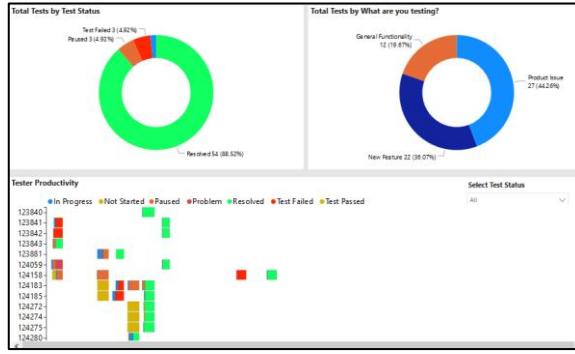

All work is managed within Magnitude. We use BI tools for visual representations of the key metrics

← Colleague workload

← Colleague productivity

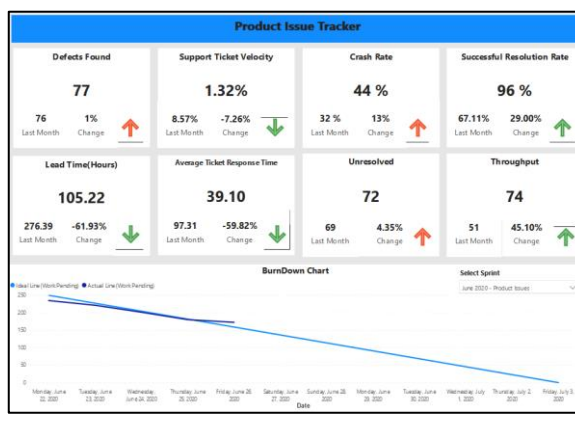

← Time / task / colleague metrics

← Test types and status per task

← Task backlog per colleague

← Product issues (bugs) critical metrics

← Product issues burn down
